NEWS
and
COMMENT

Ames, with only five letter men in the running, a light squad, and several stars out of the game on account of injuries received against Kansas Saturday, is extremely dubious about the result of the invasion of Rollins Field next Saturday. This is the opinion of H. L. Ford, sports editor of the Iowa State Student, who is concerned with the Kansas-Ames affair.

Mr. Ford says: "The Ames team outplayed and outpointed the Kansans in almost every department of the game. Captain Lindsey of the K. U. team excelled the Cyclone punter in kicking."

"Although the Cyclones came out with the long end of the score, it was an easier game than was expected. The Jayhawkers were an unknown quantity on the Ames field, and Ames supporters were doubtful before the game. Coach Mayser of the Ames eleven is exceedingly dubious about the game with Missouri. The Ames mentor feels that this game will be one of the hardest on the schedule. Missouri is feared by Ames for the first time in years."

"Several regular Cyclones will not be able to take part in the clash with the Tigers Saturday. Tucker, backfield man, in an effort to intercept a forward pass, collided with Foster, the K. U. quarter, and as a result will probably be out for the rest of the season with an injured cheek bone."

"Jones, the veteran end, is suffering from a badly wrenched ankle and will not be in the Ames line-up. Both of these men will be missed as they are what Mayser considers his best material. Aldrich, the fleet-footed right half, may not be in Saturday's game on account of injuries received in the K. U. game. The entire squad of Cyclones is badly bruised and battered on account of the heavier Kansans."

"The Ames team is light, but fast. There are only five letter men back. Several shifts in the line-up have greatly improved the team in the last two weeks, but Mayser is not yet satisfied. With the injuries incurred in last week's game with the Jayhawkers, the Ames prospects are not so bright as they were two weeks ago. The Cyclones expect a tough battle with the Tigers, and Ames supporters are anything but optimistic over the outcome."

Concentration Needed
in Tiger Rooting.

Because of the poor yelling at the Washington game last week the athletic department is to try a different plan of seating at the game Saturday. Director Brewer thinks that the weak cheering was due not so much to the lack of spirit of the Tiger rooters as to their lack of concentration. For the Ames game, sections G and H will be reserved for upperclass rooters, no underclassmen or ladies being admitted to these sections. Section F will be reserved especially for the freshmen and D and E will be kept for those others who want to cheer the Tigers on to victory. Three yell leaders will be before this part of the bleachers and an effort will be made to improve on last week's showing, when the handful of Washington followers made more noise than the several thousand of Missouri spectators.

Only Four Veterans
To Bolster Ames Team.

Only four experienced men will be in the Ames line-up Saturday. Jones, who has been doing the kicking and catching of forward passes for the Ames team, will probably not be in the game, leaving only the speedy Packer to uphold the reputation of the Ames ends. Neal, a new man, will take Jones' place.

From tackle to tackle, the northern team will present only one experienced player, Denfeld at tackle. Sloss at quarter and Albrich at half, the two experienced backs, are both light. The other two men were the stars of the freshman team last year.

Schulte Taking No Chances
On New Scrimmage Injuries.

No scrimmage was held yesterday by the Varsity, which probably means that there will be no more this week. The loss of another man to the Tigers would be a serious blow, and Schulte can afford to take no more chances with several players already out of commission.

The backfield is still a doubtful quantity. Marshall, who was expected to be in shape by the end of the week, was out yesterday on crutches, which means that he will not break into the line-up for a week or two at the best. Collins and Haines are in poor shape but will be used in Saturday's game. Viner is the only new man, who is likely to appear in the line-up.

Schulte was working hard on his new combination in the line yesterday, which shows that he is placing his greatest reliance in this department of the play against the North-erners. Shy was working at tackle in the absence of Bill Muir and may get a chance to show his ability in Saturday's contest, though Muir will no doubt start the game.

Texas-Oklahoma Game
Being Closely Watched.

The only game of major importance to Missouri this week besides the Ames battle will be the Texas-Oklahoma contest at Dallas, Saturday. While this game will give no direct line on the strength of these teams against Missouri, it will at least show which is to be the hardest game of the next two weeks. After the poor showing of the Sooners against Harry Kendall last week, Texas is easily the favorite, though some of the wise ones are saying that Bennie Owens has more of a team than appears from their showing against the Kendallites.

The Kansas Aggies meet the Kansas Normals, who a few weeks ago held the Jayhawkers to thirteen points. This will give some line on the relative strength of the Kansas teams, who meet next week. Nebraska is on the way West to meet the Oregon Aggies and, though the contest is of general interest as an intersectional contest, it will tell little as to the ability of the Cornhuskers.

Drake and Washington play in St. Louis to decide the cellar championship of the conference, though the Pikers may pile up a score big enough to be counted up to some of the other conference elevens.

The athletic department is sending out notices to all University organizations and others concerning the annual "Homecoming," November 4. The Missouri Union and the Student Council will have general charge of the events for this big day, the feature of which will be the Texas-Missouri game on Saturday afternoon.

A new arrangement has been made by the athletic department whereby any group or organization may reserve a group of bleacher seats for themselves and their out-of-town guests at no extra charge above their admission tickets or their student activity books. They are expecting students to invite all their friends, whether former University students or not, and help make the "Homecoming" the best ever. They are urging every Missouri man or woman to make a personal appeal to their out-of-town friends and get all the old students and other friends of the University here on the big day.

An all-star group of officials will have charge of the game Saturday. J. L. Grover, whose ability is known to every follower of Valley football, will be referee. E. C. Quigley, National League umpire, will umpire the contest. Quigley, who has been in the big leagues only two or three years, was one of the men chosen to officiate in the recent World's Series, an honor usually reserved for older men. J. A. Reilly of the Kansas City Athletic Club will again act as head linesman. Both Ames and Missouri have been strongly penalized in their early games and the departments have done well to secure such an efficient trio of officials.

CUPID DOWNS 2 FORMER TIGERS

Frank B. Thatcher, '11, Married Last Monday—Phil Savage to Wed.

Two former Tiger stars have, or are about to be married according to a letter received today by C. L. Brewer from Phil S. Savage, a star in the 1914 Kansas game.

Mr. Savage writes that he will be married the day before the Missouri-Kansas game and will include the game as a part of his honeymoon trip. Phil fails to give the name of the young lady, but promises to introduce her at Lawrence.

Frank B. Thatcher, '11, captain of the 1910 Tigers, was married last Monday at Odessa, Mo., writes Mr. Savage, but again he fails to name the second party in the affair. Both of these men are employed in Toledo, Ohio, by the Toledo Furnace Company.

U. H. S. TO PLAY MOBERLY TEAM

Selbie Believes Local Eleven Will Win in Spite of Light Weight.

Don Selbie, instructor in physical education at the University High School, is not superstitious, this is evidenced by the fact that he will take thirteen men to Moberly tomorrow when his charges line up against the Moberly High School eleven, in their first game of the season. The light average of his team is not worrying Selbie, as he believes the overhead attack of the local eleven will baffle the heavy Moberly line. The University High School team averages only 125 pounds.

Senior Class Elects Officers.

J. Gentry Daggy and Harry Lansing were elected to the Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics from the senior class at a meeting of the class yesterday afternoon in the Agricultural Auditorium. Paul Robinett was elected vice-president of the class. Other officers elected were: Secretary, A. Flen Baker; treasurer, Miss Maurine Heizer; sergeant-at-arms, Miss Olga Hungate. The election of Grant Wyatt as senior president has been ratified by the Student Council.

TELLS TUESDAY CLUB
U. S. MUST PREPARE

Prof. W. J. Shepard Says Nation Should Have Stronger Fighting Force.

MUST ANNEX ISLANDS

Universal Military Training Is Also Urged by University Man.

"Preparedness" was the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Tuesday Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. St. Clair Moss, who conducted the program, made the opening address and then introduced Prof. W. J. Shepard of the political science department of the University.

"Preparedness," said Professor Shepard, "is not a partisan issue; though it is one of the leading political questions of today. There are two parties—pacifists and preparedness advocates—who have the same ideal of universal peace but who believe in different methods. The pacifists believe in the educative process of propaganda, magazine and newspaper articles, lectures and so on, while the advocates of preparedness think that a desirable peace can be brought about only through state action, and they maintain that this action is only as potent as the state's military and naval forces are strong."

"U. S. Needs Strong Navy."

"The preparedness advocate is a firm believer that the power of the United States in the world reorganization, which must take place at the close of the present war, will depend upon the military and naval power of the United States at that time."

Professor Shepard said universal military service was the only solution for military efficiency, laying the burden of national defense where it belongs—on all physically able young men. Another line of preparedness that he mentioned was the acquiring of more strategic points and as an example he advocated the annexation of the Danish West Indies.

"But back of all these lines of preparedness," said Professor Shepard, "there is a preparedness we must effect in our national spirit. Some sense of responsibility must be installed in the citizens of the United States. They are now too indifferent and too interested in 'money grubbing.' Until a national responsibility is aroused we cannot hope to accomplish anything along other lines of preparedness."

Praises Plattburg Camp.

"As an educational means to develop this sense of responsibility the Plattburg Training Camp is the most dramatic attempt that has yet been instigated. The camp educated the whole nation by instilling into the minds of the men who attended the camp the fallacy to relying on volunteer service."

At the business session of the club resolutions were endorsed demanding an examination of prison conditions in the state. Miss Frances Denny was elected vice-president of the club, and Mrs. C. F. McVey, Mrs. W. E. Harshe and Mrs. Rosa Ingels were chosen as delegates to the Fourth District Convention of Clubs which meets here Friday.

3 NAMED FOR HARVEST QUEEN

Agricultural Club Makes Nominations and Plans for Barnwarming.

The Agricultural Club met last night in the Agricultural Auditorium to make final plans for the Barnwarming Friday night. Three University women were nominated for Harvest Queen: Misses Louise Harris, Mamie Holt and Mary Percival. Nominations were closed last night. Reports of all committees were given. So far, 258 tickets have been sold, but it is planned to entertain 400 couples. Only a few of the stunts given last year will be repeated.

Short Course To Begin November 1.

The Short Course in Agriculture will begin Wednesday, November 1. Registration will last only one day, and classes will begin Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. Four new courses have been added to the curriculum for this year. They are: fruit packing, fruit spraying, crop rotation, and an advanced course in the production of purebred seeds. About 250 students are expected to enroll in the Short Course.

WHEN FOOTBALL WAS PLAYED WITH WHISKERS

Most of the customs and costumes of those old boys seem quaintly old-fashioned now. But, one thing has come down to us from that time without change and growing in popularity every day—Richmond Straight Cuts, the first high-grade cigarettes made in the United States.

Even in those early days, these "bright" Virginia cigarettes were already known and valued for their characteristic and appealing taste.

Today—as then—men acclaim Richmond Straight Cuts the best of all Virginia Cigarettes. By the way, have you tried them lately?
